President's Message

As we close out 2003, I have been reflecting on what a great year ILNA has had. A member emailed me a question about my last message. He asked how do I classify a great show. I gave my answer considerable thought. There are many factors that go into making a show a good show. Anyone who has put together a show is very familiar with these factors. First and foremost is the absence of any security problems. A show should have its people come and return home without incident. Also, the dealers judge a good show. Most dealers have a good show by either selling well or filling want lists for their clients. Another factor in determining a good show is the feedback from members. A show that is well organized prompts interaction, education, and discussion amongst friends, dealers, exhibitors, members, and the general public. This year's Fall Show met all of these factors and allowed us to make a profit of $4,100. This will go towards next year's organizational expenses, Digest, website, and scholarships.

For those of you that are not life members, you will be receiving your dues notice. Dues will be the same as last year.

Also, ILNA is sending its first YN to the ANA Summer Seminar. I would like to congratulate DJ Keopple. Any YN interested in the 2005 scholarship should immediately begin the process of applying. Please contact me, any board member, or see the Digest for details.

I would like to mention the next ILNA show. The ILNA Spring Show, hosted by the Central Illinois Numismatic Association of Springfield, is on March 28, 2004. Please be sure to mark your calendars.

In addition, the ILNA Fall Show will be on September 16th - 19th, 2004. The location remains the same as last year. The show will be held at the Park Palace of Countryside Banquet Hall. This location has been the home of ILNA's Fall show for several years now. It has been a wonderful location and has worked out extremely well for ILNA. Please note the Fall Show date. It is one week later than it is usually held. So mark your calendars appropriately.

I need to mention briefly about our 2005 Shows. The site and dates for the Spring show have not been chosen. Any club interested in hosting the ILNA Spring show can contact myself or ILNA board member Steve Butler for information. The dates for the ILNA Fall Show are September 8th - 11th, 2005.

I look forward to meeting and seeing everyone in Springfield on March 28th.

As a final thought I would like to send my most sincere wishes to all ILNA members and board members for a safe, happy, and wonderful New Year.

If you need to contact me, please write to Jack D. Huggins, ILNA President, 103 Powder Mill Road, Belleville, Illinois 62223. You can also contact me via the e-mail at HUG511@aol.com.

I need to mention our website. The address for the ILNA website is <http://www.ilnaclub.org>. The site continues to delight and amaze everyone. If you have not seen the site, or if you have not logged onto it lately, please do so. You have to see this site. It is truly astounding. It looks great, easy to navigate, informative, educational, and constantly updated. You can get up-to-the-minute prices on precious metals on the introduction page, and so much more. Log on today and get informed.

Making Sense by John D. Wright

From the clues below, how soon can you guess the year?

New operas first performed this year include "Doktor Faustus" (Berlin) and "Guillaume Tell" (Paris). The latter will be the last of Giuacchino Rossini's thirty-nine operas.

A new dance-craze hits Europe this year. The "waltz" is a reaction to the formality of the eighteenth century "minuet".

Karl von Clausewitz publishes "Vom Kriege" (About War), which is still a basic reference on overall strategy in modern warfare. He goes far beyond battlefield tactics and expounds the principle of "total war", which includes destruction or neutralization of the enemy's resources, home support, and will to fight.

Louis Braille, a blind professor in Paris, invents a reading system for the blind. Today, thanks to the "Americans with Disabilities Act", Braille pads are omnipresent -- even on drive-up ATM's.

Another Frenchman, Barthelemy Thimonnier, develops the world's first practical sewing machine. A mob of French tailors, fearing loss of their livelihood, destroy eighty of the machines.

The British in India outlaw the native practice of "suttee". This tradition requires that the widow be burned with her dead husband. A few Indian widows consider this as their honorable duty, but most are dragged screaming to the pyre by their sons.

Doctors and medical schools in Britain have a chronic shortage of cadavers for dissection, study, and teaching. William Burke is hanged in Liverpool for smothering victims to satisfy this shortage. His corpse is given to a medical school. Poetic justice?

Britain's home secretary Robert Peele introduces uniformed constables to protect the citizens of London. Rapidly dubbed "Bobbies", their presence will transform the habits of Londoners. Evening strolls and late-hour dinner parties are now enjoyed without threat to life and property.

The use of steam locomotion for busses and railroads expands in France and Britain. American Cornelius van Derbilt uses his wealth gained in coastal shipping to begin building steamboats. He will become a key figure in breaking the steamboat monopoly granted to Robert Fulton and Robert Livingston, and by the time he dies he will be the richest man in America.

The first railroad steam locomotives in the US are introduced this year. The "Stourbridge Lion" begins service in Pennsylvania, and the "Tom Thumb" is built in the shops of the B&O Railroad.

Mexico abolishes slavery this year, exempting the Texas territory from this decree in an attempt to defuse secessionist sentiments there. The US President offers to buy Texas territory from Mexico. The offer is refused.

The US Ambassador to Mexico, Joel Poinsett, returns to the US with a winter-blooming Mexican plant whose leaves turn red as it blooms. The plant, later named "Poinsettia", will become a traditional Christmas flower.

Still stumped? The following closer-to-home events of this year might strike memories from your school-days history classes.

The Welland Sea Canal is opened this year, bypassing Niagara Falls to connect the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean.

The first volumes of the first edition of "Encyclopedia Americana" are published this year. It will take another four years to complete the thirteen-volume set.

The first account of the adventures of Mike Fink is published this year. Fink is an actual American frontiersman, once described as "Casanova, together with Paul Bunyan, merges with Thor".

Boston's 'Tremont House' opens this year as the world's first modern hotel. It boasts of indoor water closets and 170 private rooms, each room with its own key and unshared with any but your spouse. The $2 per day rate includes four meals and a free cake of soap. Architects of luxury hotels for the next few decades will for another quarter of a century.

The second-place graduate in this year's class at the US Military Academy at West Point is cadet Robert E Lee. The head of this class will instruct at the Academy for two years before resigning his commission to become a lawyer.

During this era, at least 75,000 Americans enter debtors' prison each year, most of them for debts of less than $20.

The newly-formed "Workingmen's Party" in New York includes 30% of the voting populace. The Workies advocate reducing the work day to ten hours, abolishing

Minutes Fall Board Meeting Urban, IL. Sunday, November 2, 2003

The meeting was called to order at 2:00PM with following officers: President – Jack Huggins, Jr., Vice President – Don Keopple, Secretary – Michael Doran, Treasurer – Kevin Wasmer, Chairman of the Board – Kermit Wasmer, Board Members - Clayton Hagemann, Steve Butler, David Spring, Roy Kuester, Frank Zapushek, Donna Wasmer, Gary Garrison, and Richard Prouty. Board members Jim Kaczor and Andrew Reiber each have an excused absence.

Secretary's Report –

Secretary Doran read the minutes of the last meeting, and a motion was made to accept the minutes – 1st by Zapushek, 2nd by Kuester, passed. Also, Doran reported that ILNA membership currently at 335 members, with 214 individual members, 91 life members, and 29 club members.

Treasurer's Report –

Treasurer Kevin Wasmer reported that the treasury currently in good shape with almost all bills paid. Also, as in the previous meeting in June, it was discussed that the amount of money in the Life Member CD's should be increased. It was agreed that the amount of money in the Life Member CD's should be increased. A motion was made – 1st by Zapushek, 2nd by Keopple, passed.

Editor's Report –

Digest Editor Zapushek noted that the centerfold ad in the Digest is now available. Also, the current Digest now stands at 40 pages. Zapushek again reminded the Board that this year would be the last year that he would serve as Digest Editor & Webmaster, and that they need to look for someone to take over those positions.

Old Business –

2003 Elections –It was noted by Huggins that Donna Wasmer & Gary Garrison are the newest members of the ILNA Board, and both were given their badges. They were joined by incumbents Clay Hagemann, Roy Kuester, and Steve Butler. Also, the Constitution & By-Laws were voted upon by membership, with the majority of the votes in the affirmative.

The 2003 Fall Show was discussed. Kermit Wasmer reported that ILNA currently has 90 cases and 44 lights for use for the Fall Show, and 31 cases were purchased this year for the show, with $1,339.00 being made from rentals.

ILNA

Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

by Frank M. Zapushek

ILNA is a strong growing State numismatic club. But have you ever thought about what makes ILNA work and grow.

The wisdom and knowledge behind ILNA comes from the older more experience collectors in the club. These members give us the strong base to build our membership. They remind us of ideas that have been tried in the past, ideas that work and ideas that do not work. The older members offer their years of experience freely to others in the hobby. Members like Jimmy Kaczor, Clayton Hagemann and others.

The middle aged members provide the labor for the club. Members like Kermit Wasmer that plan the ILNA Fall Show. He sells tables, helps in setup and distributes cases and lights. People like Don Keopple and Andy Reiber that run the power cords to the aisles. All the volunteers that help in setting up and tearing down the fall show. Those that man the admission table like Donna Wasmer, Jack Huggins, Roy and Jennifer Kuester and others.

Then the mix of people that donate to the Youth Auction so we have the young collectors getting interested in the hobby and providing the new blood and ideas for the club in the future. Members that donate their time to collect the lots from the dealers like Roy and Jennifer Kuester and Wes Payton. Members that run the youth auctions like Jack Huggins and Richard Prouty.

Members that donate their time to fill ILNA Board of Governor positions, to vote on business matters of the club. Don't forget the Board members wives...they man the tables and do all the work while their husbands attend the meetings. The Board members that give up their family time to drive to the meetings.

Then there is the backbone of the club. The active members that attend the Fall Show and the local club shows. They buy raffle tickets, buy coins and bring friends and family members to the shows. When the crowds come the dealers come.

The clubs and dealers that support ILNA when they buy advertising in this digest and drive hundreds of miles to attend the fall show and local club shows. Because of their support, you receive this digest.

Everyone working together makes ILNA what is today and what it will be tomorrow. Help the hobby and help yourself, bring a friend to a coin show. Give of you time and receive the feeling of satisfaction that comes from being a volunteer.

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

by Michael B. Doran

The holiday season has passed, a new year has begun, and there might even be some snow on the ground depending on what part of the state that you might live in. As you are reading this, you should be receiving your dues notice in the mail as well. Please take a few minutes to make a payment on your dues, make any necessary corrections/changes, and mail it in, so your association does not have to go through the expense of having to send you a second mailing. If there are any questions about your membership, please contact me either by e-mail at secretary@ilnaclub.org or call/fax me at (815) 802-0544. I will reply as soon as possible. If you know someone who would like to become a member of ILNA, you can print an application online at www.ilnaclub.org and go to the "Join ILNA" link. If you don't have a computer, please either call/fax or write to P.O. Box 150, Bradley, IL 60915-0150.

Speaking of membership, your membership card will come in handy this year, as the ILNA Spring Show will be hosted by the Central Illinois Numismatic Association (CINA) on Sunday, March 28, 2004. The show is located at Northfield Center I, 3210 Northfield Dr., in Springfield. This is a 70 table show, with dealers from all over Illinois and surrounding states. There is a $1 admission fee, but children, CINA, and ILNA members (with membership card) will be admitted in free. If you're interested in a table, contact Steve Butler at (217) 528-7634.

The ILNA History Project is still going on, and we need your help. If you have any ILNA materials, medals, ribbons, photos, stories, or anything ILNA-related that has some historical value, please contact myself or Jack Huggins at (618) 397-4839. Any help would surely be appreciated.

In closing, I would like to tell each ILNA member that on these cold winter nights there is a coin club somewhere in Illinois having a meeting, and you are always welcome to attend. A list of clubs is available on the back page of the ILNA Digest or online on the ILNA website under "Local Clubs" for more information.

We are looking for a new Digest editor. Frank Zapushek will work with you to teach you how to layout the Digest and use both Pagemaker and Adobe Photoshop. Learn from my 25 years of layout experience.

ILNA also needs someone to develop our web page and keep it up to date.

New Business –

2004 Spring Show – It was discussed by the board that the 2004 Spring Show will be hosted by the Central Illinois Numismatic Association in Springfield on Sunday, March 28, 2004. A motion was made – 1st by Doran, 2nd by Spring, passed.

2004 Fall Show – It was discussed by Huggins that a contract for the 2004 Fall Show was made and needed approval. A motion was made – 1st by Donna Wasmer, 2nd by Hagemann, passed. Also the Board discussed the price for a table at the show and whether to increase the price of Early Bird badges. A motion was made to increase the price of tables – 1st by Prouty, 2nd by Butler, passed, and a motion was made to keep the cost of an Early Bird badge the same – 1st by Donna Wasmer, 2nd by Zapushek, passed. Huggins noted that Fox Valley Auctions would like to be the ILNA Auctioneer for the 2004 Fall Show, and after discussion, a motion was made to do so – 1st by Doran, 2nd by Zapushek, passed.

Doran discussed changing the way membership numbers are read. He noted that ILNA uses a computer program for record keeping and processing mailing labels, and suggested that ILNA should adopt the ANA-style system for simplifying membership records, to be effective in Fall 2004. After discussion, a motion was made to do this – 1st by Zapushek, 2nd by Keopple, passed.

The board discussed whether remunerations should be given to all officers and board members. A motion was made to do so – 1st by Butler, 2nd by Prouty, passed.

A motion was made to adjourn the meeting – 1st by Zapushek, 2nd by Huggins, passed. Meeting was adjourned at 3:47PM.

imprisonment for debts, free education for all, and curbs on banks and monopolies. Fearful bosses claim that the Workies are being stirred up by foreigners.

Still don't have the year? Well, the following items should be enough to give it to you.

In the first test of the supremacy of authority of States' governments versus Federal government, the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, and Mississippi oppose the Tarrif Act of last year as unconstitutional. The "nullification" issue centers on the right of a state to nullify a federal law. This schism will widen over succeeding decades, eventually erupting into bloodshed. Today all questions of constitutionality are settled in the US Supreme Court.

The inauguration of recently-widowed Andrew Jackson introduces the "spoils system" to US Federal government, appointing posts as "payments" for political support. This process will increase over the next century-plus, so that by now the term "political appointee" bears little relationship to "best qualified for the job".

Jackson's rowdy post-inaugural reception leaves muddy boot prints on the satin White House furniture and a lot of broken china in the carpets. He is the first US President with no connection to the Virginia dynasty. He is also the first to gain the Presidency by a virulent, mud-slinging campaign.

President Jackson signs the "Indian Removal Act", decreeing the forced removal of Native Americans to lands west of the Mississippi. His promise to the dislocated Indians is: "Your white brothers will have no claim on the land and you and all your children can live on it in peace and plety as long as the water runs. It will be yours for ever."

These events all took place in 1829. During this year the US mint at Philadelphia made about 7.5 million coins in seven denominations -- two gold, three silver, and two copper. The rarest item of this year is the half eagle. Though about 57,000 were struck, they are today of about the same rarity as the 1804 dollar. The 1829 HE's come with large date (8 known) or small date (7 known), and bring big money but WAY less than an 1804 dollar. The quarter eagle (3,000 struck) is also quite rare, but much less so than the half eagle.

About half of all 1829 coins struck were half dollars. Of the twenty known die varieties of 1829 H$, only one is rare -- and the distinctives of that reverse die are minor at best. Better known is the one variety (of 14 varieties known) of 1829 dime that rates its own listing in the "Red Book". The 1829 dime with curve-based 2 is known by only around a dozen examples. First noticed as something different in 1973, the best one discovered so far is only a nice Fine. The Guide Book is likely acknowledging current grading-slide practices, since it prices this coin in grades up to VF. The HALF dime of 1829 is an anticlimax, as it comes from a single pair of dies and is very common.

The 1929 half cent is also unremarkable -- one variety, common. The large cent of this year is a different story. Though no 1829 cent variety is more than scarce, this is a VERY tough coin to get in full Mint State. And over half of the nine varieties are scarce. All of the "small letter reverse" varieties of 1829 (N3,5,9) are scarce, in demand, and very tough in better than a bare VF. Two of the "large letter" varieties (N4,7) are also scarce and hard to find above VF. One of these is called the "wheelspoke variety" because its reverse comes with five radial cracks.

So this makes 1829 cents something worth looking over. Since none of them are truly rare, you stand a good chance of eventually finding an unattributed example of all nine varieties. If you can settle for a nice VG or Fine, this is a doable goal in four to six years. Or you could just bite the bullet, pay GOBS of money to a specialist dealer for some lovelies, and rob yourself of the joy of the hunt.

John D Wright is the author of "The CENT Book", which covers US cents of 1816-1839. He has collected US large cents for fifty years.
